

AIR BALLOON HOLDS A BOMB

Children Find the Deadly Instrument Floating in the Air... Probably Aimed at Palace.

ARRESTS AT BEIRUT

Minister Leishman Turns Down Explanation of Turks Regarding the Shooting.

(Special by Scripps-Mellae.) Constantinople, Sept. 1.—Children playing in the street of the Ortakoy district, near Yildiz, today, saw an air balloon alight. Examination proved it contained a bomb with a fuse attached. It is believed the balloon was set free by the agents of the revolutionists, who hoped it would light within Yildiz, Kiosk, and blow up the sultan's palace. The incident has aroused the wildest fears both within the palace and through the city.

Explanation Don't Go Five men were arrested at Beirut on charges of complicity in the shooting which led to the report that Magelsen was assassinated, according to a report received by Leishman from the Porte. Leishman refuses to accept the Turks' explanation that the shooting was merely a salute fired at a native wedding in accordance with the custom.

Washington, Sept. 1.—In conversation with Secretary Hay of the state department Chelby Bey, Turkish minister to the United States, gave assurance that the Sultan is most anxious for friendly relations with America. He was apparently without recent information from Constantinople concerning the progress of the Macedonian insurrection, but urged that the Turkish government is doing its best to suppress the disorder and will spare no pains to protect the lives and property of foreigners.

The minister was much disturbed over the order from the President for the European squadron to proceed to Turkish waters, and used his best efforts to convince Secretary Hay that there is no occasion whatever for American warships there. He did not, however, protest against the sending of ships, and made no official utterance of disapproval.

Says Reports Are Exaggerated. He explained that it will be found out later that the reports of serious disturbances in Turkey and the danger to the lives of foreigners are exaggerated, and emanate from Bulgarian sources. Notwithstanding these assurances, it is not the intention of the United States government to recall the Brooklyn and San Francisco, though it is now probable that when they reach Beirut new instructions may be sent to Rear Admiral Cotton, based upon a better understanding of the Turkish situation.

Minister Leishman said in a dispatch to the state department several days ago that it would be advisable to have an American warship within reach in case the revolution becomes more alarming. It was positively stated that Minister Leishman has not indicated any change of opinion on this subject, and that, so far as the state department is advised, he continues to feel the necessity of having a naval vessel within easy call.

Too Late for Recall. Soon after the departure of Chelby Bey from the state department, Secretary Hay called upon Acting Secretary of the Navy Darling and discussed with him the orders to Rear Admiral Cotton. He learned that the Brooklyn and San Francisco have left Genoa for Beirut, acting under the original instructions of the navy department.

Both vessels have taken on enough coal to enable them to remain in the vicinity of Beirut for some time. They will, therefore, not stop at Port Said. Under the circumstances, it is explained that even should it be desired to recall them before reaching Beirut it could not be done.

There is a belief among the officials that when the squadron reaches Beirut, if it is learned that there is no actual danger, they may be sent to Smyrna, where there is a much better harbor, and where they could be of as much service should it be necessary to impress the sultan with the fact that the United States will tolerate no overt acts against the lives or property of Americans.

No Claims Against Turkey. No further information has been received at the state department in regard to conditions at Beirut or Harpoot. A dispatch from Minister Leishman says that the trial of the Armenian professor of one of the American colleges at Harpoot, who is charged with sedition, is progressing satisfactorily. Minister Leishman is watching the affair closely, however, to see that a fair hearing is granted. There is a popular impression that this government has a number of old unsettled claims against Turkey.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT EVANSVILLE

FIFTH ANNUAL FAIR OPENS TODAY FAVORABLY.

RECORD-BREAKING EXHIBITS

More Prize Pumpkins and Enormous Squashes Entered Than Ever in the Past.

(Special to The Gazette.) Evansville, Wis., Sept. 1.—The first clear day in nearly a week is taken as an auspicious sign for the commencement of the fifth annual fair in this city. Elaborate preparations have been carried forward, and the grounds and buildings are ready for the most successful fair yet held. The heads of the different departments have vied to outdo each other, and all circumstances have combined to make the event notable.

Many Fine Exhibits. In number the exhibits far exceed those of any previous year, and there are many contestants in the ribbon classes. Superintendents have been occupied yesterday and today in allotting space.

Today is children's day, and the attendance has been large. This afternoon's attendance is expected to exceed that of any previous year, for the opening day.

Races Begin Tomorrow. Many fast horses have already arrived at the track, although no races will be run until Wednesday. The entries make this attraction an assured success. A car load of racers has been entered from Fox Lake. The race card is good throughout. There are a number of special attractions, engaged by the fair management. On this list are Miss Alice Fwood, the acrobat, The Cretos, who also do an acrobatic turn, and Prof. Tom Clark with his dogs.

LIPTON OFFERS BONUS TO SHAMROCK CAPTAIN

Check for £8,000 to Be Writings If Challenger Crosses Line Winner of Three Races.

New York, Sept. 1.—It is stated that Sir Thomas Lipton's faith in the ability of the Shamrock III to win from the Reliance was not on the strength of reasons wholly sentimental, for he stood ready to pay $10,000 to Capt. "Dob" Wringe if the challenger should win three out of the five races.

On the morning before the first race Sir Thomas visited the Shamrock at its moorings in the Sandy Hook horse-shoe. He looked over the vessel, talked with the sailors, held a consultation with William Fyfe, the designer. Then he summoned Capt. Wringe aft. He produced a draft for £8,000 drawn on London.

"That," said he, "is yours if you win three out of the five races. I have every confidence in you. In addition to that you may assure every sailor on board he will have no cause to regret his trip to America if the Shamrock crosses the line first in three races."

LORENZ AND WIFE AGAIN HELD

Couple Involved Over Postal Frauds Indicted on Second Charge.

Toledo, O., Sept. 1.—Mr. and Mrs. George E. Lorenz of this city, who early in the summer were arrested on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with postoffice department frauds, were quietly arraigned here two weeks ago on a second charge of the same nature. After the first arrest they were given a public hearing and held to answer to the Supreme court of the District of Columbia. A few weeks later they were again indicted. The couple voluntarily appeared before the commissioner and were committed to the jurisdiction of the Supreme court. A bond was fixed at $10,000 for Mr. Lorenz and $5,000 for Mrs. Lorenz.

WOULD PUNISH WIFE BEATERS

Indiana Judge Favors Post and Cat-o-nine-Tails for Offense.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 1.—City Judge George G. Feldman created a sensation in the police court by publicly declaring himself an unqualified supporter of the whipping post and a cat-o-nine-tails for wife-beaters. The cause for the announcement was Ignatz Bedwarwacz's plea of guilty to whipping his wife. Upon learning the facts of the case Judge Feldman said: "I shall not send you to jail, because your wife and babies are in need of your support and are now waiting for you in their little home, but if I had the power I would instruct an officer to tie you to a post and lash you with a cat-o-nine-tails."

JANESVILLE METHODISTS MEET

Beloit, Wis., Aug. 31.—The Janesville district conference of Methodist churches began its session in this city yesterday. The session will come to a close today. Business meetings and a discussion of junior work took up the time yesterday. Rev. W. W. Warner of Janesville gave an address on Bible work yesterday afternoon.

THIRD TERMERS—"THE SPIRIT OF '03"

BREEZES DECLARED UNSUITABLE; ANOTHER CUP RACE WITHOUT RESULT

Wind Began Briskly, But Died Down Soon After--

Contest Declared Off at One O'clock--Lipton Chafing Under Continued Delay.

(Special by Scripps-Mellae.) Highlands, N. J., Sept. 1.—Another attempt will be made tomorrow to determine the possession of the America's cup. Today's race was no race because of lack of wind.

Highlands, N. J., Sept. 1.—Fickle winds today again interfered with the yacht races for the America's cup. Starting in this morning it blew out of the northwest at a smart seven-knot gale that gave promise of better things, but the wind did not last long. It died away a knot at a time until 9:00 when the Reliance and the Shamrock left for the starting mark. It was blowing about three knots. At noon it had died out altogether.

Declared Race Off. Under the rules the boats had to remain at the line until one o'clock at which hour the regatta committee promptly declared the race off. Interest in the race died away because the Reliance's superiority was so strikingly demonstrated.

SCHOOL OPENS ON SEPT. 8

STATE INSTITUTE FOR BLIND TO BEGIN TERM.

SEVERAL NEW INSTRUCTORS

Teaching Force To Be Changed--Leader for the Orchestra--Repairs on Buildings.

The State Institute for the Blind will open for the fall term a week from today, September 8, and the prospects for the school year of 1903-4 are bright. There have been a few changes and additions to the faculty; Miss Harris, who formerly held the position of instructor in physical culture at the institute has resigned and the vacancy has been filled by Miss M. A. Turner of Stoughton, Wis., who will be ready to take up the duties connected with her position, by the time school opens.

Will Have Orchestra Leader. Mr. Eugene Gill of Larned, Kas., has been appointed to the position of orchestra leader. This work was formerly attended to by other members of the faculty and school.

The entire building and grounds have been put in readiness for the fall term and nearly all of the repairs in progress during the summer, have been completed. Some additional work on the plumbing may be attended to later.

GIVES CLEW TO CAR BARN CRIME

POLICE HAVE THEORY FOR MURDER IN CHICAGO.

AN EX-CONVICT TELLS STORY

Former Employee of Company Admits Being in League With Men Who Committed the Crime.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—"I told Gustave Malatesta that at 2:55 Sunday morning the owl car left the barns, and that this would be the best time to attack the cashier. I posted him about the policeman on the beat and the barn watchman."

"I knew what time the barn watchman would be on the upper floors pulling his clocks, and also at what time the employees about the place would be least likely to interrupt the job."

With a confession implicating himself and naming Gustave Malatesta, an ex-convict, as leader in the raid, John Slender, a prisoner at the Englewood police station, is said by Capt. Shippey to have told a complete story of the $3,000 robbery and double murder at the Chicago City railway's receiving office early Sunday morning.

Slender, who is a former employee of the railway company, denied knowledge of the names of the other two men who participated in the crime, but the police believe the eventually may be brought to reveal their identity.

Slender was arrested shortly after the murder of two of the railway employees, and his statement from the first led the police to believe he knew more than he was disposed to tell.

After repeated examinations by Capt. Shippey and Chief of Police O'Neill, the prisoner is said to have become so contradictory in his explanations that he finally broke down and confessed.

With his knowledge of the barns at Sixty-first and State streets, and his familiarity with affairs there, which Slender is said to have admitted imparting to his confederates, the perfection of the plans of the murderers is apparently explained.

With this statement from Slender the police have redoubled their efforts to find the other three men involved.

BREAKS UP UNIONS IN BELOIT

Strikers Swear They Belong to No Organization and Are Re-Hired.

Beloit, Wis., Sept. 1.—Nearly all of the striking machinists at the Berlin Machine works have returned to work, but before he reinstated them President Yates required them to make affidavits that they were not members of a labor union and would not join such while employed by the Berlin company. The affidavit was a surprise to the men. It is said that a number of the union men had given their cards into the custody of the officers of the local union with the understanding that they were to be returned when the union considered the time ripe, but Mr. Yates checked this action by causing the affidavits to be taken.

Some of the men signed reluctantly, but most were glad to get back to work. The best of feeling prevails in the shops. All talk of a strike elsewhere in the city has vanished, and the Employers' association claims that the backbone of union rule is over in Beloit.

He was unarmed and had not threatened the marshal. Reuter was arrested and taken to Fort Madison.

NOTHING DOING FOR AMENDMENT

Council Turns Down the Amendment Proposed by Janesville Traction Co. Last Night.

VOTE UNANIMOUS

Recommendation of the Judiciary Committee Went Through Without a Single Balk.

The amended interurban ordinance which the Council interest proposed died a surprisingly easy death last night. The judiciary committee reported adversely upon it, the mayor put the question, the clerk called the roll, and not a dissenting vote was recorded.

One week from today is the limit set for acceptance of the franchise to build the Madison extension. If accepted the company will be required to give bond for the construction of the road. If not accepted the field will be open to the Southern Wisconsin Interurban Railway company or any other competitors in this field.

What the next move on the part of the Janesville Traction company will be is a matter for conjecture. Many are of the opinion that last night's action was a death blow—whether to the city's interests or to those of Mr. Clough and his associates remains to be seen.

Mr. Clough is absent from the city today and his attorney declined to speak for him regarding his intentions.

FOURTEEN FACE TRIAL FOR DANVILLE RIOT

Thirteen Men and One Woman Are Charged With Attempting to Enter Jail With Intent to Kill.

Danville, Ill., Sept. 1.—The most important trial of the series following the investigation into the lynching of Metcalf, the murderer of Henry Gatemeyer July 25, commenced Monday, when Mrs. Beattie Armstrong Dodge, John Walton, Isaac Slade, Adam Merry, Horace Murphy, John Robertson, John Isom, Ol. Manfield, John Kreiss, Thomas Bell, Richard Roberts, Clement Mohraker, William Redwine and Winfield Baker were placed on trial on a charge of attempting to enter the jail with intent to kill.

Difficulty is again being experienced in securing jurors, most of those summoned showing aversion to serving. Many are excused for having formed decided opinions on lynchings and mobs. At adjournment seven jurors had been selected.

Redwine and Baker had a fierce fight in their cell in the county jail. Baker, who has already been found guilty of a penitentiary offense, accused Redwine of acting as a spy in the jail. When separated, Baker had a black eye and his right forefinger was badly chewed, while Redwine's face was scratched and bruised.

Company C has departed for Ottawa on orders from Governor Yates, following a request sent by Sheriff Whitlock.

NICE QUESTION FOR COURTS

Old English Law to Be Invoked Against Indiana Convict.

La Porte, Ind., Sept. 1.—If Indiana courts uphold the old English law that if the victim of an assault dies within a year and a day the assailant, though convicted and imprisoned for the assault, can be brought from prison and tried for murder, Peter O'Neill will be taken from the Michigan City penitentiary and tried for the murder of "Red" Wade, whom he stabbed for $2 last January. Wade apparently recovered, but the wound reopened while he was working and he died at South Milford. The prosecuting attorney will attempt to bring O'Neill to trial for the murder, though he is serving his sentence for the assault.

ELECTRIC WIRE KILLS A MAN

City Employee of Kenosha, Wis., Victim of Deadly Current.

Kenosha, Wis., Sept. 1.—William Joachim, formerly assistant city engineer, now employed as a sewer inspector, met a tragic death at West Main street and Grand avenue. He was leaning against a post supporting the wires of the electric light company, when he suddenly fell to the ground and died almost instantly. The lamp on the pole had been pulled up too high, causing the guy wire to come in contact with a live wire, and it is supposed that he was killed by the shock of an electric current.

The body of Thomas Murray of Mass City, Mich., was found near the Union depot at Ashland several hours after complained of not feeling well.

EAST STREET 40 FEET WIDE

WIDTH OF ROADWAY FIXED AFTER A LIVELY TILT.

DISAGREEMENT IN COUNCIL

Aldermen Mills and Connell Take Opposite Views—Petition Won Out.

After the East street curb line had been regarded as practically disposed of, it bobbed up at last night's council meeting in lively fashion, and some little discussion was required to give it its quietus.

The upshot of the tilt was that the road width was fixed at forty feet, in accordance with a petition from a majority of the property owners, all of whom Aldermen Collier had seen previous to the meeting, acting as an intercessor between the different parties in the neighborhood disagreement.

Wanted Width Uniform
His colleague, Alderman Mills, held that the thirty-six foot width should be maintained in the Second ward as it is in the Third ward. The present question involved only the Second ward part of the street.

Dr. W. H. Palmer addressed the council in behalf of the property owners who favored the forty-foot width, and after hearing him the aldermen voted to fix the width of the roadway at forty feet.

BORROWED MONEY FOR THREE FUNDS

City Obligated to Raise $4,000 for Immediate Expenses—Tax Levy Ample.

Ample provision for all anticipated expenses has been made in the tax levy but until the citizens of Janesville come in more generally with their taxes deficits will occur in various funds and the city will be obliged to equalize these shortcomings by borrowing money. The first step of this kind since the tax levy was made has been taken and $1,000 borrowed for three of the funds. The sums borrowed were as follows:

Fire and water fund, $1,000.

Bridge fund, $500.

School fund, $2,500.

Question as to the legality of borrowing money for the school fund caused some little hesitancy among the aldermen about authorizing the mayor to secure the last named sum. The city attorney was consulted and gave it as his opinion that the school expenses came under the definition of "ordinary" expenses, and therefore money might be borrowed under the city charter provisions.

$2,500 does not begin to touch the needs of the school board. The clerk of the board asked that $8,000 be provided for current expenses, including next month's salaries for teachers. $2,500 was borrowed as a compromise measure, and this sum will probably be increased when the salaries fall due.

GOLFERS PLAY AT THE LINKS TODAY

Benedicts and Bachelors Handicap Handicap Matches Are Begun—Finals for the Ladies' Medal.

Although the close of the season is drawing nigh, there are still a few of the more enthusiastic golfers who are making the rounds of the links with a certain degree of regularity, and they are taking part in the matches which are being played this afternoon. Both of the matches for the male members of the Janesville Links are handicap events, prizes having been hung up for the winners.

Only those players who have entered the married state are eligible for the first of the two matches, while the other contest is for the bachelor golfers.

Finals in the Valentine medal play are being contested this afternoon. Possession of the ladies' medal for the coming year lies between Miss Belle MacLean, who defeated Miss Wina McGinn in the semi-finals, and Miss Catherine Fiddell, who drew the bye in the semi-finals.

All of the matches began at a late hour this afternoon.

ATTEMPT TO LOWER THE DEPOT LAKE

Drainage Operations Being Carried on at the Milwaukee Road Station.

Draining the roadway around the St. Paul depot has been finished and a force of men are now grading up the top of the drive to lessen the possibility of water gathering on the surface. The drain itself was made up of an outer line of curbstones at the bottom of which extends a flooring of brick to the edge of the depot platform and wall of the station. The dirt was then partially filled in and on top a second layer of brick was laid and cemented. It is thought that this plan will be amply sufficient to carry off all water that cannot soak into the ground or run off in other channels.

ANNUAL MISSIONARY MEETING

NO PAY FOR THE SALVATION ARMY

SERG. MAJ. LITTLE SAYS NO SALARIES HERE.

UP-HILL WORK IN JANESVILLE

Members of Little Band Have to Labor Hard To Come Out Even on Expenses.

"Many people think that the regiment soldiers in the Salvation Army share in the collections that are taken up on the streets and at the meetings, but this is a mistake," said Sergeant Major, Fred Little, as he thrust a long iron rod into the spout of the cupola at the New Doty works yesterday afternoon. And as the molten metal gushed forth, filling the air with sprays of fire and casting a red glow on the faces of the waiting moulders, he continued his conversation.

Soldiers Also Contribute
"Only the field officers are entitled to any compensation for their services. These offerings have in most cases passed through the training school in Chicago or some other city and having taken up the calling as a life work, are sent from place to place at the command of their superiors. These officers, the captain and his wife for instance, are allowed money over and above expenses, amounting to $10 a week for their maintenance. Out of this sum they must pay for their board and lodging. It seldom happens that they receive anything more than their living.

Up-Hill Work Here
"The soldiers contribute to the support of the army and in most cases give more than they would as members of a church. At least it has been so in my case. The army has up-hill work here in Janesville. The expenses for the rent of the hall are considerable and the collections are small. It is hard to arouse interest in the work, and the considerable back-sliding among the soldiers. Some time ago a rent league was organized among the business men and several paid as much as fifty cents a month. That has helped some.

Two Meetings Each Night
"We hold open air meetings in the summer and meetings in the hall on Sundays and in the winter. Two of these street meetings are held each evening, one on the east and the other on the River street on the west side of the city. After our open air meeting at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, Sunday school for children is held in the hall. There is usually a very good attendance.

No Slum Work Here
"No slum work is done here, as in the larger cities, but the officers are required to make a certain number of visits each week and give a faithful report of them at stated intervals. These visits are made among those who are likely to be in need of our help. Our street meetings are held at 7:30 every night but Monday. The latter evening is set apart for the soldiers' meeting, at which time the officers advise with the soldiers, concerning the future work."

Personel of the Army
Sergeant Little has a step-son, Sidney Bates, who expects to enter the training school in Chicago. The present members of the local army are Captain and Mrs. Brown, originally of Gloversville, N. Y., who came from the post at Beloit about five months ago; Captain Saxon, a visiting officer, who is soon to go to Ironwood, Mich.; Serg. Major Fred Little, Mrs. Little, Frank Patterson, A. J. Pearl, Sidney Bates, and Miss Ethel Brown who has just returned from New York State, where she has been acting-lieutenant of one of the posts. Four members of the local post held a meeting in Fort Atkinson last evening. A regular post may be organized there.

WORLD'S GRAIN CROP IS SMALL

Large Deficiency Estimated by Hungarian Minister.

Buda-Pesth, Hungary, Sept. 1.—The annual estimate of the world's grain crop issued by the minister of agriculture sets the wheat crop in Hungary at 41,226,700 metrecentners (a metrecenter equals 44.022 pounds), compared with 46,507,000 last year. The deficiency in the other cereals is about the same percentage. The report strikes a balance between the requirements of importing countries and the available exporting surplus of the other states, indicating a deficiency amounting to 13,270,000 metrecentners in the world's grain crop.

UNJUST CRITICISM.

The president is being criticised, in some quarters, for his action in regard to Turkey. Because the bullet which was intended to assassinate the American Consul, went wide of the mark, the argument is used that there is no cause for action. That this argument is confined to a little coterie of citizens who are ever on the alert to condemn, speaks well for the nation. The president enjoys the confidence of the people in rare degree. They believe not only in his sincerity, but they have learned to respect his judgment on all questions of importance. He is not impulsive or hasty in action, while noted for promptness in emergency.

The nations of the old world have discovered that he is a man that they will not submit to injustice, and they respect him accordingly.

Turkey has been slow to recognize this fact, and while the American fleet may not be called upon for action, it is well that it should be within calling distance.

It is not at all surprising that the Turk does not take kindly to Christian civilization as presented by the missionaries from this and other lands. He regards the work as an encroachment upon religious rights that are heavy with age and superstition. He is content with the belief of his forefathers and is tenacious in defending his faith. Civilization, whether introduced by the church, or in the interests of commerce, is an enemy.

While these conditions exist to a greater extent in Turkey than in any other nation, there is no argument in defense of the atrocities committed and it is high time for some nation to take the initiative, in an effort to put a stop to high handed outrages.

The same people who condemn President Roosevelt today, criticized McKinley when he called Spain to task for Cuban outrages.

But Cuba was redeemed and the war with Spain is recognized as the most humane in history.

It may not be the mission of this government to invade Turkey, but the people are assured that the man who stands at the head of the nation will not hesitate to protect the rights of her citizens in any land where they may sojourn.

THE OATH OF ALLEGIANCE.

It must have been a humiliating experience for the employees of the government printing office at Washington, when called upon to swear allegiance to the government that protects them. The fact that this policy was deemed necessary by the president on account of labor disturbances adds to the humiliation and should furnish abundant food for thought.

While the government is able to protect itself against any contingencies that may arise, it differs in this respect from all other classes of employees. There is no law, except unwritten law of common justice that comes to the relief of the employer, when organized labor takes the law in its own hands and either through real or imaginary grievance refuse to work.

The employer is not the only sufferer, for when the edict goes forth, every man affiliated with the organization, whether in sympathy with the movement or not, is expected to be loyal to the union, however much suffering his loyalty may entail upon his family or those dependent upon him.

Another, and a larger class of men who suffer are the non-union workers, commonly designated as "scabs." This is where injustice comes in, and while humanity recognizes the right of every man to work in this free land, there is no law that protects men in this right.

The government is recognized as the ideal employer. The hours of labor are not excessive, the pay is good and there is never any question about pay day, and yet the government demands loyalty, and recognizes no discrimination. The ruling of the president is a whole-some ruling and while the same law may not apply outside of government employees, it would be well for the country if organized labor recognized the unwritten law of justice.

BE DECENT, GENTLEMEN!

The purposes of a county fair are or should be, too obvious to need enumeration. These annual events furnish the farmers an opportunity to meet their fellow husbandmen and their city relatives and acquaintances at a place where friendships may be renewed; the fruits of the orchard exhibited and admired; the handiwork of the farmer's good wife examined and praised; the products of the dairies and cheese factories arrayed and tasted; the big pumpkins and squashes lined up in friendly rivalry for the blue ribbons; the fat porkers, in neat pens, made the center of admiring groups; the poultry in their finest feathers urged to their best efforts at cackling, quacking and strutting; by open mouthed children; the sleek cattle and plump sheep viewed and their several merits judged; the draft horses led around by their admiring owners; race horses put through their tests that both farmer and city man may see the results of breeding and training, and the scores of other products of the farmer's labor and skill gathered together for inspection, says the Madison Journal.

The fair is no place for political pow-wows. The farmers do not want them nor do their city friends enjoy them. A bitter partisan or factional speech is out of place at a county fair as would be a dog fight in a Sunday school.

OUR ROADS ASTONISH FOREIGNERS

The development of passenger transportation in the United States astonishes all foreigners. Edwin A. Pratt, a representative of the London Times, was making some investigations yesterday at the Grand Central Station with a view of writing a comprehensive article on American railroads. His inquiries developed the fact that the New York Central has eight passenger trains a day between New York and Chicago, and when he learned that the distance is 980 miles he remarked that it was a marvelous thing. He was still further astonished to find that four of the eight trains make the 980 miles in 24 hours, and that one, the 20th Century Limited, goes the distance every day, in either direction, in 24 hours. His amazement grew when he was informed that the west bound 20th Century Limited carries only Chicago passengers, and will not take a passenger for any other point. He remarked that his people would be equally astounded on learning these facts.—From "On the Tip of the Tongue" Column in the New York Press.

The Whitehead incident stirred up quite a commotion, and from present appearances the governor and the Evansville fair association came out second best. If county fairs are to be prostituted for political purposes, the people should be given an opportunity to enjoy a fair discussion.

Bulgaria is getting restless over the proposed annexation of the throne by some one else and will probably do Prince Ferdinand the favor of taking it away from him very soon.

Col. John Hannan has much to do explaining why he made the governor look like a double barreled Jonkey. But still the governor knew all about it perhaps.

That mimic war off the coast of Maine may be a good thing to keep the sailor boys in fighting trim if Turkey gets busy again.

An American citizen is killed in Turkey and now here goes our gun boats to tell the Turks to be good at once, pretty D—quick too.

Evidently the governor's friends have not been idle up at Madison from the way they have flooded the country with literature.

The market hunter will be obliged to change his occupation. There is but little comfort for him in the new law.

The old settlers of Kenosha county are wondering whether they had a meeting, or a campaign pow-wow.

The Milwaukee Journal is having a busy time as self appointed guardian of the Oshkosh Northwestern.

What the Shamrock III seems to need is about four days' time allowance.

Scotland does not think Sir Tommy is really and truly a good sportsman.

Between the rain and the governor the county fairs are up against the real thing this fall.

A mile in two minutes. Pretty fast time but this is a fast age.

After all is playing golf such a wonderful compliment.

Was Bob afraid or dastent hot?

Observers at the political situation would do well to watch the steam rise in the "reformer's" steam gauge.

PRESS COMMENT

Minneapolis Journal: The Jamaica hurricane has advanced the price of bananas in the east. Any old thing is all right to advance the price of something to eat nowadays. Everything has gone up—except airships.

Milwaukee Sentinel: The south regards Judge Parker as "a human icicle." But it should have heard the judge's remarks when an automobile nearly ran him down the other day.

Milwaukee News: It is a little early to predict what Shamrock IV will be like, but it will probably differ from its predecessors in several important particulars.

Ohio State Journal: Harry Lehr goes to market with a silver purse attached to his wrist by a gold chain. If Harry isn't careful he'll sprain his wrist.

Columbus (O.) Dispatch: St. Louis has secured our national convention for next year. That is the convention of the united christian party, which purposes to nominate a woman either for president or vice president. If a woman is nominated, will she agree to marry if elected?

Madison Journal: The General is now a back number. He will never figure as a presidential candidate to any extent. Like many an eclipsed star he must find his consolation in work well done and in the regard and appreciation with which he is held in non-official circles.

St. Louis Globe Democrat: Associate Justice Brewer's argument that the right to appeal in criminal cases should be abolished will attract general attention. Nearly twenty hundred appeals are hung up in the state supreme court of Missouri.

La Crosse Chronicle: The contention of Hamilton Garland that the proper treatment of the American Indian by the United States government is represented in a "let alone" policy, that we are failing to benefit the Indian, and are treating him unfairly receives very substantial affirmation in the report of Mr. Brodus, agent of the Indian Rights association.

Eau Claire Leader: Owing to our excellent game laws, and the vigilance of our wardens, northern Wisconsin presents a grand field for the sportsman. No other state in the union can compare with it. The shooting and fishing are equally good. How long this will last is difficult to state. Settlers are pouring in by the thousands, and it is only a matter of time until every acre will be occupied.

SUMMER GIRLS' PHILOSOPHY.

Man has created the girl bachelor by decades of selfishness.

It is not always safe to judge of a man's income by the cost of his bou-tonnieres.

An artistic temperament is always interesting, but a bank account is more practical.

Do not trust your happiness to a practical joker; they are sure to spoil the finest effects in life.

You must not expect the author of a cook book to try all the recipes, or a doctor to take his own medicine.

So many people forget that life can only hold its fill and crowd it with cheap trivialities, leaving no room for more valuable thoughts and interests.

Let your family pride begin and end with yourself, and try to reflect lustre rather than borrow it from something as intangible as a mere name.

We are fast degenerating into a state of national toudyism, where a title, be it ever so small, is still vast enough to agitate our toudy-loving bosoms.—Ivah Richardson in San Francisco Call.

BY OUR OWN PHILOSOPHER.

Horseless vehicles should be run with horse sense.

Life is short, yet most men outlive their good resolutions.

One way to make horses fast is to cut off the food supply.

You can always get satisfaction by going to law—if you are a lawyer.

Happy is the woman who can make home so clublike that her husband doesn't care to leave it.

While the fool puts off till tomorrow what he could do to-day, the wise guy postpones it indefinitely.

The trouble with most social reformers is that they insist upon looking for vice with a brass band.

It was an Irish philosopher who said a man always appreciates what he has when he no longer has it.

When a doctor loses a patient and he isn't sure of the cause he attributes it to a complication of disorders.

The summer girl doesn't necessarily love the ocean because she swallows a portion of it while sporting in the surf.

ALL TRUE.

It's a poor statistician who cannot make figures lie.

Children should be seen more and talked about less.

If a girl has rocks it takes a man with sand to win her.

Speaking terms are to be found on a card in the telephone booth.

BATTERIES HERE ON RETURN TRIP

Twenty-First and Fourteenth of Regular Army Field Artillery Arrive in the City.

WERE SIX WEEKS ON ROAD AND IN CAMP.

Spring Brook Circus Grounds Will Be Military Encampment for the Soldiers.

CAMP FOR NIGHT IN THE CITY

Three horsemen in khaki, with red bands on their slouch hats and riding horses with Uncle Sam's initials branded on the shoulder, reached Janesville early this morning to prepare for the coming of the 21st and 14th batteries of the regular army. Shortly before noon the two batteries arrived.

They were the same detachment of the regular army which passed through this city enroute to Camp Douglas from Fort Sheridan some weeks ago. After six weeks on the march and in camp they are returning to Fort Sheridan.

Camp at Spring Brook. The soldiers are making a longer visit in the city than when they passed through on the north-bound journey. They have made their camp on the Spring Brook circus grounds, and will spend the night there. Their march today was from Edgerton.

As a whole the cavalcade bore the marks of service—actual or otherwise. The wagons and guns were covered with splashes of mud; the men wore more of a devil-may-care air; even a few of the horses seemed dispirited, although the sturdy beasts which the army selects for its use seemed to have been less influenced by the weeks spent on the annual march.

Have Had Desertions. Since the beginning of March five men have deserted from the two batteries. Two took French leave at Shopiere, the night before Janesville was reached on the journey toward Camp Douglas. The others left later on. None were captured.

Two bulldogs have been added since the beginning of the trip, by "adoption," said the soldiers with a tell-tale wink. Whatever the circumstances surrounding the acquiring of these possessions, the soldiers showed themselves good judges of dog-flesh. The animals were riding each on the top of a caisson. To prevent possibility of desertion they were secured by chains.

Bound for Fort Sheridan. In its marching order the battalion included two hundred men, two hundred, and twenty-four horses and a wagon train of nine wagons. Six guns and six caissons made up the equipment of each battery. Each battery also had an ambulance wagon. It will be nearly two weeks before the battalion reaches Fort Sheridan, the average day's march being twenty miles, although less than that is covered on some days.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT WILL OCCUR LATER

Evansville-Janesville Match Will Not Be Pulled Off Until Next Week.

The tennis tournament that was to have come off yesterday afternoon at Evansville has been postponed until Thursday, September tenth, when the Janesville men will endeavor to arrange for the Evansville team to play on the Tallman courts. The players who will be asked to come from Evansville are Paul Gray and the Reverend Hoag of the Baptist church. It is the opinion of the tennis players in the city that there is a lamentable lack of interest in the game at present, all having apparently lost themselves in the imaginary fascination of golf. If enough enthusiasm could be raised and a club formed so that courts could be established and an opportunity to play given, there is no doubt that interest in the game would increase.

CHANGE PICNIC OF ST. MARY'S

Decide Upon Labor Day Instead of September 8.

On account of unsatisfactory transportation facilities to the river park first fixed upon, St. Mary's church has decided to hold their picnic at the South Side park in this city.

The date has also been changed. Labor day, Sept. 7, has been fixed upon, instead of Sept. 8th, as first planned.

The ladies of St. John's Lutheran church held a picnic at Buob's Grove yesterday afternoon, and at the same time celebrated the birthday of Mrs. Carl Brockhaus. Games were played and a picnic supper was served, every one thoroughly enjoying the occasion.

Slightly Hurt: Late this morning Mrs. Bridget Delaney in endeavoring to reach the treasurer's office in the city hall, took the wrong flight of steps which lead to the basement and while returning to the second floor slipped on one of the steps and received a shaking up, from which she soon recovered, however, and was able to walk home.

As the fire chief's rig was standing in front of the building, she was given a ride to her residence which saved her the fatigue of walking after her mishap.

BRAVE WOMAN SAVES FAMILY

Takes Husband and Three Children From Burning House.

St. Louis, Aug. 27.—With her lungs filled with smoke and with flames blazing beneath her, Mrs. Richard Rolfe carried her three children from a burning house in a terrific thunderstorm, which was at its height at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. Breathing a prayer for the preservation of her children, she dashed back into the building and dragged her husband from the bed. The parents had barely escaped when they discovered that their oldest child, Charles, aged 6, was missing. The intrepid woman darted into the dwelling a second time and found the boy asleep on the bed, to which he had returned in a stupor. She quickly carried him out to safety. Then she gave way and had to be cared for by neighbors.

FIRE PUT OUT WITHOUT ALARM

DEPARTMENT NOT CALLED OUT FOR FURNITURE BLAZE.

THE FLAMES DO SOME DAMAGE

Extinguisher Quenches Fire at Hanson Factory, Caused by Machinery.

Fire at the Hanson Furniture factory at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, caused by a spark from a sand papering machine, resulted in damage amounting to nearly two hundred dollars. The first intimation that of any one had there was "something doing," was when a small flame was seen shooting up from one of the pulleys near the frame of the machine. This was about three o'clock and the machine had not been running since half past one, when the operator left for dinner, so it must have been smoldering below the floor and in the ventilator pipe for some time before it was discovered.

Fire Hard to Get At

The pulley that was on the same shaft of the sandpapering roller, and the roller were encased in a boxlike framework and this was burned badly. Below this apparatus was a metal pipe which was used as a draft and in this the fire must have smoldered in the waste. Below the pipe, in the basement was a quantity of oak veneer and much of this was destroyed causing the greatest loss. No alarm was turned in but the timely use of two efficient fire extinguishers put an end to the blaze in short order.

Good Work by Extinguishers

The regular fire hose connected with the factory was brought into immediate use but the greatest good was done by the extinguishers and while the whole plant might have been destroyed, much greater damage was prevented by their use. Just before the application of the extinguishers the flame from the blazing woodwork reached nearly to the ceiling of the room and the prospect of its spreading appeared grim.

The prompt and cool work of the men, however, soon brought the blaze under control. It is thought that the fire started from a spark caused by a heated bearing.

GOVERNOR IS KNOCKED DOWN

Judge Wood Angered by Davis' Questions From the Platform.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 27.—Judge Carroll L. Wood of the Arkansas supreme court, who is opposing Governor Davis as candidate for a third term, knocked Governor Davis off a speaking stand to the ground during the campaign at Bismarck. Governor Davis was not hurt and friends prevented further trouble. Judge Wood was immediately arrested on a charge of assault and battery. Governor Davis publicly asked Judge Wood questions, and before they could be fully answered interrupted with more questions, which so angered Wood that he attacked Davis. Later the matter was adjusted and Judge Wood returned to Little Rock.

SUICIDE HAD SUM OF MONEY

Under-Sheriff Cochrane Makes Examination of Property of the Late Henry Tessin.

Under Sheriff Wallace Cochrane visited the lodge place, Robert Pollock's farm, about five miles south of Janesville yesterday afternoon, to look over the personal effects of the late Henry Tessin. He found a trunk and various articles of clothing, but was unable to find the key for the trunk. After he had searched some time he decided to break the trunk in. Upon doing so he discovered among its contents the sum of $130 in bills.

Had Saved Money

The officer upon making further investigations learned from the brother who visited Janesville yesterday that Henry Tessin had about $3,000 in the Whitewater bank last winter. As he was frugal in his habits and spent no money foolishly it is probable that the same amount is there now. No trace of the bank-book could be found.

The deceased left no family and the money will therefore be divided among four brothers and the children of a brother who died at Clearwater, Minn., some time ago.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, Sept. 1.—A severe frost occurred in this region on Saturday night. It is difficult to arrive at a satisfactory estimate of the damage, as it varies according to localities. Corn suffers the most, but it is not by any means wholly destroyed. All that was planted early and thoroughly tilled will be injured but little, while that which is small and late is about "gone up." It is thought tobacco is damaged about twenty per cent. That grown upon lowland is badly injured, while on the uplands it has escaped. Late beans and pumpkins have been entirely ruined. Marsh hay and fodder is damaged, as well as sorghum and broom corn.

More Volunteers for the Twelfth Battery.—Ambrose Pierson, Thomas J. Spring, and David C. Davey of this city enlisted in the Twelfth battery today. Lieut. Harlow will not leave to join his command until Sunday, midnight, consequently, volunteers will be received until Friday, ten a. m., at which time it is necessary to proceed to Madison with his recruits for muster, bounty and clothing.

In This War Men Grow Old Very Fast.—We recently saw a photograph of Gen. Robert E. Lee the ablest of the rebel generals. His hair and beard are white as snow, and the lines of his face indicate rapidly advancing, or rather, premature age. Two years ago Gen. Lee—according to photographs then taken of him—appeared as a man in the prime of life, with a face exceedingly pleasant to look upon, the hair and dainty mustache dark and neatly trimmed, and the features smooth and fair.

Freight Car Burned.—A freight car, belonging to the R. & M. R. R. company, and loaded with some eight or ten tons of rags, took fire from the spark of a locomotive when near Racine station Saturday morning, entirely consuming the contents and the car, down to the platform.

Meek-eyed oxen, village choristers, harvesters, and the inevitable collection of odd characters will mark the coming of "Sky Farm" to the Myers Grand. This drama of the Berkshire hills was one of the successes of last year at McVicker's, and the pleasant impression it left has not been forgotten by the patrons of the playhouse. The play is now the property of Joseph H. Grismer, the dramatic carpenter who made "Way Down East" the best playing piece on the road. He has made several changes in the play, to its betterment. Mr. Grismer thinks.

Minstrelsy never will die, but old minstrel ideas have been dead for some time; in fact, ever since Beach and Bowers launched a new and up-to-the-minute novelty in minstrelsy. The company will be here on Thursday and should be attended by all who love the bright and clean in minstrelsy. Beach and Bowers always give us wholesome fun and their appearance is heralded with pleasure.

Tailor-Made Gowns Are To Be Mannish.

THE approaching season promises to have as one of its marked features the mannish gown. Not only is the cut to severe and tailory rather than dressmakerly, but the fabrics themselves are to be very like those worn by men. Checks, printed-yarn effects, heavy-looking material splashed with a color contrasting with the foundation tone, all these are borrowed from the garb affected by the sterner sex. And the straight lines that will be in vogue in preference to the curving ones of past years will add emphasis to the general air of mannishness.

The fall costumes will look businesslike, utilitarian, and perhaps suggest to innocent man, because of their severe simplicity, that they really are simple and inexpensive. Not necessarily so. Authorities declare the present year is to be a silk year, that all gowns are to be provided with a drop-skirt of silk, that everyone must have waists of silk, petticoats of silk, linings of silk. And the one item of lining will therefore add very considerably to the expense of these neat, simple-looking gowns. But to offset the luxury of the free use of silk, we are to have this winter the economy of the short gown, even elaborate afternoon gowns are to be without the superfluous train; those of the best style will be of the same length all around, merely touching the floor.

In making an old skirt shorter, to get the close fit about the hips and sufficient fullness at the bottom is not an easy matter? As a rule it is advisable to rip up the skirt entirely, and cut it over from a new pattern.

In the autumn, rich autumnal shades always are in vogue, but this year the grape tones, the blue-reds, are to be especially prominent. In themselves they are beautiful shades, but often are very trying when worn next the face and should not be chosen unless of decided becomingness. Dahlia red and fus-chia can be safely affected by the pure blonde or clear-skinned brunette, but the neutral toned or florid should religiously avoid them.

Though the prophesies are for fuller skirts, street skirts will not immediately show flamboyancy other than at the bottom. Tucks and plaits prevail, as last year, and the close fit over the hips is still the mode. Street skirts are quite short enough to display the stout boots, and are walking skirts in fact as well as name. Coats are long and yet longer, the three-quarter length being much preferred to the short jacket that has had the lead for so many years. Some of the coats are princess in form, many are skirted. The belt giving the French curve is seen on almost all, and is a touch that adds very considerably to the modernness of the garment.

While most skirts of the present day are unlined, the silk drop-skirt is thought by many an absolute necessity. From time to time we hear that taffeta has had its day, but this silk is in demand more and more; not the old stiff, rustling sort that loudly advertised itself, but a softer, more pliable kind. The newest styles in lining silk are the changeable and fancy varieties, checks and small designs being popular.

Though it makes one warm just to see them, all the big shops now are displaying their furs. It is scarcely safe to affirm thus early what finally will be the choice of the best-dressed in the matter of shapes for these fur accessories, but one can at least give hints. It is rumored that the sloping shoulder of the persistent 1830 modes will dominate, and that the fur boa and collarette, in which we have been used for some time, may be extended into the quaint, old-fashioned pelerine. Brocades, which have been banished for so long, are striving to get back again, and if they do we shall indeed see a jumble of periods.

Eczema's Curse Removed

Awful skin disease of this woman cured in a few weeks after fifteen years' terrible affliction.

Note the ghastly despair in the photo taken before treatment.

(Case of Mrs. J. M. Daniels of Winchester, Ky.—completely cured by D. D. D. after 7 weeks' application. She had suffered fifteen years.)

See the same features—but note how different when brightened with hope and happiness, after her freedom from it all.
Reader! This is more than medicine talk. It is humanity to enlighten sufferers about this.
The most virulent skin diseases are conquered—every time—in all cases—without any exception—clear away in a few weeks—by the brilliantly clever new skin prescription, "D. D. D." Its work is hardly equalled by any other wonders of modern medical practice.

D. D. D. REMEDY

Enough has been proven to us—regarding the above case and hundreds of others—to demonstrate beyond all question whatever that any of the known forms of skin disease—any eruption or breaking out—must quickly give way and disappear under the influence of this prescription (known as "D. D. D."). Cases of Eczema, Salt Rheum, Ring Worm, Psoriasis, Barber's Itch, Acne, etc., some of twenty years' standing have been cleared off and permanently cured in a few weeks. In several cases from one to three years have elapsed and there has been no returning sign of the disease. Hundreds of cases cured since the preparation has been placed on sale show no sign at all of the previous affliction, and we fully believe they are permanent cures.

Have you been—or do you know anyone who has been—in a living hell of torture with a skin disease? Despair usually seizes those so afflicted. Many imagine it is in the blood and too subtle to cure. Doctors have stood baffled and helpless against Eczema. Half of them think its worse forms are blood poison. Ninety-nine cases out of a hundred of manifestations on the skin are purely local—SKIN disease—not BLOOD disease. Healthy blooded people break out as often as anyone, the blood has nothing to do with it in most cases. It is a parasite in the skin that spreads. This prescription is today completely clearing away—quickly too—and permanently curing every trace of such parasitic trouble and leaves the skin soft, healthy and perfect. Call at our store and investigate the unquestionable proofs in our possession.

The prescription is sold by us at $1.00 for a liberal bottle, and comes under authentic label of the D. D. D. Company of Chicago, who solely compound the prescription for druggists everywhere.

THE OTHER MAN

By FREDERIC REDDALE

"Why, of course," assented Sir Arthur. "I believe we killed our fatted calf in proper fashion. It will be the happiest Christmas Denecroft has seen for many a year."

Stella sighed blissfully. "Yes," she said, "I am a very happy girl."

The baronet grunted an assent in preoccupied man-fashion, and opened another letter. Stella wriggled a little nearer, seating herself on the arm of his chair.

"Well, what is it?" asked her brother, leaning back with an air of resignation. "Let me know the worst, and get it over."

"Oh, it's nothing alarming," gurgled Stella—"at least I hope not. Are you in a very good humor this morning, Arthur?"

"I was," he answered gravely, "but the most patient man has his limits, you know."

Stella—the dignified little Stella—fairly giggled—there is no other name for the sound of suppressed delight and merriment which rippled from her lips—and immediately went off on another tangent.

"Don't you think it very nice that Richard and Mr. Kane seemed to like each other so much last night?"

"Why, yes—since we are all neighbors I should say it was most fortunate. Perhaps we ought to feel delighted that Mr. Kane likes us so well—oh?" and he pinched the girl's cheek mischievously, while a quizzical smile twisted the corner of his mouth.

"Do you really like him?" she murmured, hiding her face on her brother's shoulder.

"Who—Rick?" Sir Arthur pervertedly inquired.

"No, you old stupid—Mr. Kane!" she replied, giving him an admonitory shake.

"Certainly. He impresses me as a fine fellow; a man of action and affairs; a man of head and of heart. In point of birth and breeding, I suppose, we must concede something, but in these democratic days the new men are coming to the front and must be reckoned with politically and socially."

During this didactic speech, delivered in Sir Arthur's most deliberate manner, Stella slid off the chair-arm and edged towards the door.

"I am so glad you feel that way," she said as she turned the handle; and then, nodding saucily at her brother, "he is coming to see you this morning!" and with a whisk of drapery she was gone.

Sir Arthur preserved his gravity for a moment, and then, with his favorite chuckle, said half-aloud—

"Another addition to the family, I suppose!"

It is not always an easy thing to ask a father for his only daughter in marriage; but when the guardian of the girl happens to be her brother, and rather younger than the suitor himself, the task of the latter is not a whit less embarrassing.

But Kane found the baronet disposed to meet him half way—perhaps because of his general liking for the man. So when, after the usual salutations and inquiries, he came to the point simply and directly with—

"As the head of your family, Sir Arthur, I am come to ask your sanction to your sister's engagement to me," the baronet smiled and said:

"Yes, I received a hint to that effect this morning, coupled with a command that I was not to go out. Well, Mr. Kane, what has the culprit to say for himself? You know it's a pretty serious matter to rob a brother of his only sister, particularly when that brother is a bachelor!"

"The only extenuation I can plead, Sir Arthur, is that the lady will be making another poor bachelor the happiest man on earth."

"Oh, if you put it in that way," laughed the baronet, "I can have nothing to say, except that I do not know anyone to whom I would sooner trust Stella's happiness." And so saying he offered his hand.

"The lawyers can attend to the settlements, I suppose," he continued, "and from what I have seen and heard of your resources, Mr. Kane, I opine there is little danger of your wife ever coming to want."

They both laughed at the jest, and at this opportune moment Richard strolled in.

"Here, Rick," exclaimed Sir Arthur, "you are just in time to be introduced to your future brother-in-law. Shake hands and congratulate each other."

As Rick came forward his manner was most cordial. The morning's recollections of the night before had apparently left no unpleasant taste, and he took Kane in all seriousness and sincerity for what he had appeared to be.

"See what comes of my leaving home," he said ruefully. "I find the family running at loose ends when I return and my little sister about to be carried off into captivity. But you have my sincere congratulations and good wishes, Mr. Kane. I wish our acquaintance had begun a little earlier out yonder. I rather think you and I together could have pulled off some big things."

Kane could only bow with acknowledgments, as was perhaps natural under the circumstances, and was certainly safest.

Rick knew, out of his own experi-

FIERCE PLAGUE RAVISHES CUBA

NATIVE DOCTORS ASK FOR AID

Local Physicians Find They Cannot Cope With the Affliction and Appeal to American Scientists to Come to Their Relief.

New York, Sept. 1.—Menaced by a terrible plague which seems uncontrollable and which hitherto has been unknown in that country, the people of Cuba look to the United States for scientific aid. They have sent to the Jefferson and Columbia colleges in Philadelphia and New York an appeal to give battle to a plague which seems to be the worst that has ever ravaged the island. Millions of dollars of American capital are invested on the island, and should the plague continue much of this will be imperiled.

In Daiquiri, province of Santiago, where the plague first manifested itself, much American money is invested in iron mines. The disease first appeared among the miners there and already the inhabitants are becoming panic-stricken.

Appeal to Americans.

A copy of the report of the disease was forwarded to the Jefferson Medical college in Philadelphia and passed through the hands of Dr. Joseph S. Hef, the medical director. By him it was referred to Dr. S. Solle Cohen, the professor of medicine and a specialist of note.

The highest exponents of medical learning in Cuba have been unable to discover what the new disease is. Daiquiri is an isolated community, and the disease has spread to distant and more densely populated parts of the island. In each instance it is traced to Daiquiri, and claims on the scene are solved unopposed, hence the scientists of this

Symptoms of L. ase.

A description of the disease, prepared by Cuban physicians, show: the plague to be one of the most terrible known. It presents the worst symptoms of yellow fever, black fever, spotted fever, with even more terrifying aspects than the horrible bubonic plague. The body of the victim after death, which is almost certain to take place after a few hours, turns a shade of yellow which compares with yellow fever manifestations only in tint. But it is in the agony of the death struggle that the horror lies. The report shows that the victim's pulse goes up to 160 and his respiration reaches 58. These organic disturbances, together with a temperature of 107 or 108 degrees, keep the victim in lingering agony, which, strange to say, is not cut short by the terrific heart beat. The patient gasps and pants for breath until the blood gushes from the nostrils and the terrible fever consumes the tissues of the body.

Few Survive the Attack.

The disease is contagious. After trying many remedies the local physicians have fallen back on the use of quinine exclusively and trust to nature to work a cure. Few recover, and only those who are treated within a few hours after the fever is contracted have any hope of surviving.

So insidious is the growth of the malady that the victim is likely to think he is suffering from some simple ailment until the case is too far advanced for recovery. In almost every case the victim suffered from intermittent malarial fever, and an examination of the blood reveals the presence of the micro-organisms of malaria. From this it is surmised that malaria invited the disease, yet it is proved that the micro-organisms repel it if they are present in sufficient numbers. Those who are filled with malaria microbes are likely to recover, while those less affected surely die.

ART AND NATURE

White flour is made from wheat. So is whiskey. But neither one can be said to be a physiological food. Neither one represents those superb qualities native to the wheat and that Nature designed for her children. White flour, like whiskey, is the product of Art—not of Nature. It is, indeed, merely a part of the perfect whole.

On the other hand, in Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit, made from the entire wheat kernel, we have a food that has not been stripped of one single organic element. It represents the complete grain just as the soil, the rain, and the sunshine produced it. No effort to improve on the work of the Great Master Builder. In this food we have every property to build and maintain every part of the body. Defective teeth and weak nerves evidence the use of defective food. Moreover, in Shredded Wheat we have bulk which the system demands.

"I have had stomach and bowel trouble all my life and find that your cereal food, Shredded Wheat Biscuit, does me more good than all the medicines I have ever used."—C. W. Haskins, Colorado Springs, Col.

A SCULPTOR'S PRIDE

HOW THE NEW ERICSSON STATUE CAME TO BE ERECTED.

Disappointed With His First Work, the Designer Built a Second at His Own Expense—Reminiscences of the Monitor's Inventor.

In connection with the new statue of John Ericsson, inventor of the famous Monitor, which was unveiled in Battery park, New York city, a few days ago, there is a unique and interesting story. The new statue replaces an older one which for ten years had gazed out over the waters of New York bay. Both were designed by Jonathan Scott Hartley, the sculptor, but while the state paid for the first its successor was erected entirely at the expense of the sculptor, whose professional taste and pride were offended by his earlier work.

Ten years ago, when Mr. Hartley saw his first idea of the great Swede wrought in bronze, he was greatly disappointed. There was a certain slouchiness of pose that he could not account for. He was sure that his model bore no such defect when he gave it in charge of the foundry to be cast. Finally the sculptor learned that his clay model had met with an accident and that one of its knees had been crippled in the casting.

In the old statue Mr. Hartley was not permitted to let Ericsson hold a model of the Monitor in his hand. He was told that the inventor did not make the model, but only the plans of the war ship. As the state paid for the monument the sculptor had to bow to the wishes of its representatives. Now Mr. Hartley at his own expense has replaced his first work with a larger and, as he believes, far nobler statue. The new figure grasps a model of the Monitor in his left hand, and his right holds a scroll engraved with the lines and curves of the original design.

The house in Beach street, New York, in which John Ericsson spent the last twenty-five years of his life is still standing, though now a dilapidated tenement in a locality given over for the most part to business purposes.

When John Ericsson bought the house in 1864 he was sixty-one years old. The world of science accounted him a genius, and men called him great. He had built the first steam locomotive, the first practical steam fire engine and the first screw steamship to cross the Atlantic. He had revolutionized naval construction by adapting his propeller to war ships, and the victory of his Monitor over the Merrimack had not only brought him fortune, but had woven his name into American history. Yet John Ericsson was not satisfied. It had been the dream of his life to turn the sun's rays into mechanical power. The remaining years of his life he devoted to this problem, and in his Beach street house he used up his wealth as well as his health in this vain effort.

Ericsson's house, when he first went to live in it, was in a fashionable neighborhood and faced a park adorned with trees and flowers. When the park was wiped out and a huge railroad station grew up in its stead he still remained, though the din of traffic must have disturbed his meditations.

At first it seemed to make no difference in his tremendous activity. After awhile, however, the aged inventor began to show how the ever increasing noise disturbed him. He put wads of wool under his bedposts so that the far of trucks rolling through the street would not awaken him before daybreak. Then he began buying up his neighbors' dogs and cats so that he could drown them and be rid of their nightly clamor.

Old Ann Cassidy, his faithful servant for many years, before her death used to tell of his "queer ways," as she called them. One particularly obnoxious neighbor was a young woman who pounded a piano next door. Ericsson piled up mattresses against the thin party wall, but to no avail. Finally he sought to buy silence at the cost of a beautiful watch. The young woman only sighed and said, "Captain, if you knew how I loved music you would not tempt me this way."

After Captain Ericsson's death his remains were conveyed to Sweden on a United States war ship. In Langenshyttan, in front of the farmhouse in which he was born, his countrymen have erected a great monument, and in the neighboring graveyard his body lies in an imposing mausoleum.
